

Alina Strelkovskaia

alina@deconstructedtales.de | deconstructedtales.de
Based in Heidelberg, Germany

Education

2010–2015	BA in Art Research (Theory and Practices of Contemporary Art) European Humanities University, Vilnius, Lithuania
2016–2018	MA in Sociology European Humanities University, Vilnius, Lithuania
2009–2014	Specialist Degree in Linguistics and Literary Translation Minsk State Linguistics University, Minsk, Belarus

Related Professional Experience

2017–Present	Board Member & Secretary ICOM Belarus (International Council of Museums), Minsk, Belarus - Developed and executed communication strategies to promote and protect Belarusian cultural heritage. - Managed internal and external communications for the national committee.
2016–2018	Art Education Programming The National Art Museum of Belarus, Minsk, Belarus - Curated and managed public educational programming, including lecture series and academic conferences. - Provided editorial and translation services for exhibition texts and institutional publications. - Delivered guided tours and provided language support for international delegations.
2017–2024	Product & content strategy; narrative design Editorial and managerial roles at Springer Nature (Warsaw, PL & Heidelberg, DE) and Skyeng (Remote) - Led the design and end-to-end development of narrative-driven digital content for educational and publishing platforms. - Managed creative workflows, coordinating with visual designers, voiceover artists and production teams. - Applied user-centric research to inform the development of digital tools and user interfaces (UI/UX).

Skills

Languages	Russian (Native), English (Native-level Proficiency, C2), Polish (C1), German (B1)
Digital	Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, Illustrator), GIMP, Inkscape, Krita, KdenLive, other video and digital imaging tools, Content Management Systems (CMS), HTML, CSS, foundations of Python